PEASANT THROWS BABY TO WOLVES

Famished Beasts Disregard Living
Bundle to Tear Man
to Pieces.

St. Petersburg, May 12.—A terrible story of a father's desperate act in throwing his child to the wolves is related here.

A peasant named Grunsnijoff, accompanied by his wife and four-year-old child, it is stated, was traveling by sleigh to Volchuni. Towards dusk, when only a few miles from the town, he suddenly came on a pack of wolves.

Grunsnijoff's wife, in her terror, suggested that he should appease the famished beasts by flinging them the child. This, however, the man at first refused to do, continuing to belabor his horses.

At length, however, seeing that the wolves were gaining on the sleigh, he flung the child into the road. His sacrifice was in vain, for the wolves, disregarding the living bundle, flew to the attack with renewed fury, and at length dragged the peasant from the sleigh. The man was devoured.

When the horses arrived in town the woman was found lying unconscious in the sleigh.

The child, which had not suffered the slightest injury, was found lying peacefully sleeping on the road.

Causes Mother's Death

New York, May 10.—Mrs. Katherine McDonough, who died yesterday in a hospital, was a victim of a peculiar accident. Over a week ago she was stuck over the eye by a nursing bottle in the hands of her infant daughter. The injury was at first regarded as trivial, but it became so painful that the mother was removed to a hospital where traumatic meningitis developed.

NOTICE

Order of Court That County Roads Must be Worked or Pay According to Law

On motion at a special term of Fiscal court of Jan. 7, 1913, it was ordered that the roads of Crittenden county be worked by hands to be warned in by the County Road Engineer, or his assistants, and all able bodied male citizens of the county over the age of 18 years and under the age of 50 years, except licensed ministers of the gospel and citizens of incorporated towns and cities, are required to provide themselves with necessary tools and implements, and to work on public roads of the county, not exceeding two days in a week and six days in each year, provided, however that any road hand may pay to the county engineer, the sum of three dollars. ($3.00) on or before the 1st day of June, of any year, and upon payment of said sum, he will thereby be released from work upon the road during the said year. The County Road Engineer shall immediately pay over said sum so paid to him, to the county treasurer, who shall place same to the credit of road fund, and same shall be applied and used in the employment of graders, plows, and teams and hands to work upon the roads of the county when needed. And said treasurer shall keep a separate account of such funds from that paid to him by the sheriff. In employing hands to work upon said roads the County Engineer shall pay the prevailing wages in the neighborhood where said work is done, not however, to exceed $1.50 nor less than $1.00 per day, for each day of eight hours. In view of this fact I am now prepared to give receipts to all who want to pay.

"OLD JACK."

Old Jack weighed in thirty-five,
A thirteen-year-old fellow
But all his blessed life
He never showed the yellow.

Treed squirrels, 'possums and coon,
Would ketch an' hold a hog—
But above all his favorite boons,
Was to fight another dog.

It didn't matter about the size,
No dogs, are passing 'round,
He'd show his bristles, growl and rise
And scrap him on the ground.

You needn't yell an' sick ole Jack,
Afraid that he would bolt—
By gum, the biggest trouble was,
Ter make him break his holt.

The other dog might get Jack down
An' have the vantage of the law,
But Jack ud stay there on the ground
An' chew and chew an' chew.

He never made no great big noise
When folks would make a din,
He'd never fool the betting boys,
For he went in ter win.

You needn't pour on water
And call him little Jack,
An' want ter pull the big dog off,
That had him on his back.

You jist stan' back an' hold your breath
An' let old Jack alone,
He'd stand the storm an' fight til
death

For he was plucky, ter the bone.
He wusn't like sum folks he seed—
Start a thing, an' quit—
He had blood in better head
An' jist stuck close an' fit.

I don't believe in startin' things
Aulless yer in the right—
But when they force ye to the ring
Why, jist stand up an' fight.

An' so in life, the battle's on
An' judgment's comin' nigh—
Old satan's tryin' to fake your crown
An' keep you from the sky.

Then keep your trust in God, old man
An' pump on every sin,
And fight while travelin' through the land

And stick, and hold and win.

Health a Factor in Success.

The largest factor contributing to a man's success is undoubtedly health. It has been observed that a man is seldom sick when his bowels are regular—he is never well when they are constipated. For constipation you will find nothing quite so good as Chamberlain's Tablets. They not only move the bowels but improve the appetite and strengthen the digestion. They are sold by all dealers.

Fruit in Abundance.

If the sugar trust follows its custom of reducing the price of sugar when the country is blessed with a good crop of fruit, it and the fruit jar trust will soon be heard from, says the Hopkinsville Kentuckian. Such a crop of peaches as we are to have in this good year of 1913 has probably not been equaled in twenty years. Old and young trees are hanging full and they have attained already the size of small marbles. The strawberry crop will be better than for two or three years and the home-grown have already made their appearance on the market. It is said pears will be scarce but cherries will be more plentiful than last year. Apples? Biggest crop for years.
